François Truffaut interview 1960 Hitch Francois Truffaut
François Truffaut, Writer: La nuit américaine. French director François Truffaut began to assiduously go to the movies at age seven. He was also a great reader but not a good pupil. He left school at 14 and started working. In 1947, aged 15, he founded a film club and met André Bazin, a French critic, who became his protector. Bazin helped the delinquent Truffaut and also when he was put ...

Alfred Hitchcock — Wikipédia

English film director Alfred Hitchcock made cameo appearances in 40 of his 54 surviving major films (his second film, The Mountain Eagle, is lost). For the films in which he appeared, he would be seen for a brief moment in a non-speaking part as an extra, such as boarding a bus, crossing in front of a building, standing in an apartment across the courtyard, or even appearing in a newspaper ...

Interviewed in 1966 by François Truffaut, Hitchcock explained the term MacGuffin using the same story. Hitchcock also said "The MacGuffin is the thing that the spies are after but the audience don't care." Hitchcock's term MacGuffin helped him to assert that his films were in fact not what they appeared to be on the surface.

Quella lunga intervista, che diventa in pratica un'epico viaggio nella vita e l'opera del regista, nonché un compendio delle sue osservazioni sull'arte cinematografica, nel 1966 diventa un libro: Il cinema secondo Hitchcock. Nel 1980, dopo la morte del maestro, Truffaut aggiungerà nuovi aneddoti su quell'avventura. E nel 1984, alla prematura scomparsa dello stesso François Truffaut
